Fall 2025 Diocese of the Midwest Liturgical Practicum

CHICAGO, IL [DOM] – The Diocese of the Midwest is hosting a Liturgical Practicum from November 14-16, 2025 at Holy Trinity Cathedral in Chicago, IL focused primarily on the Hierarchical Liturgy. It is open to current and prospective Readers, Subdeacons and Deacons who want to become more proficient serving this service and gain confidence and competence when a hierarch is serving.

Topics include, preparing for the service, conduct a walkthrough of the entire service, important aspects and moments of the service, managing the vestments, order of censings, and some key things specific to Subdeacons and Deacons. There will be back-to-back Hierarchical Liturgies on Saturday and Sunday mornings to assist with retention and gaining experience with the service. Those interested are encouraged to register early and contribute a meager $50/person to cover meals. Participants are responsible for their own travel and lodging arrangements. The schedule and practicum materials will be distributed once registration has been finalized. The deadline to register will be November 3rd, 2025.

The instructors for the liturgical practicum will be Protodeacon Peter Ilchuk and Subdeacon Dimitri Pletz. Protodeacon Peter was the Metropolitan's subdeacon for many years and still serves as his Protodeacon. He has extensive experience serving as Protodeacon in all settings the Church offers, both in large venues with multiple bishops, deacons and servers, and small venues. He is a wealth of knowledge and experience, and will be able to answer most any question deacons and subdeacons alike may have. Subdeacon Dimitri has over 20 years experience as a subdeacon and has led trainings like this practicum several times before in the Diocese of the West for existing and prospective Deacons, Subdeacons and Readers.
